Show your support for the Lake Washington School District bond by wearing red and waving VOTE YES signs before school starts on Tuesday, April 12!

Events to be held at schools 45 minutes before morning bell time

Every Tuesday, students, parents, grandparents, business owners and community members are wearing red to support the students of Lake Washington School District and the April 26 bond.

On April 12 we are planning our largest Red Tuesday yet!

Date: Tuesday, April 12

Time: 45 minutes before bell time at your school

What: Wear red and wave signs to passing cars that say “VOTE YES” on the bond (for LWSD, for kids, for schools)!

Where: “Next” to your school! Pick a safe spot outside your school grounds (public sidewalk or across the street as this can’t be on school grounds) where you can see passing cars.

Who: Everyone! Students, parents, community members, neighbors. We would love to have one central person take lead for each school to recruit sign wavers, and make sure you have necessary signs!

Why: We need to let the community know there is a lot of support for this important bond, which will help with overcrowding in our fast-growing district. This event is designed to showcase support throughout our district and create some buzz on social media too.

RSVP: Please let martha.votestudents@outlook.com know by April 1st if your PTSA will participate.

Participants please take photos at your school event and post on your own social media with the hashtags #Yes4LWKids and #redTuesday and/or send to martha.votestudents@outlook.com or beth@sigall.com and we will share!! If you wish to take personal videos that works, too! These will be awesome photos!
